

WIN A DATE WITH NAT CHRISTIAN©

Come up with the most reasonable answers and win!

They got Sandra, then Stern, now the Victoria's Secret show was pulled as a result of the fallout from the Janet Jackson episode. It's not like I was going to watch Victoria's Secret. I mean the big secret is that most models have a hard time walking to music.

But the questions are...

What was that nipple going to do? What? Was it going to stab us? Shoot us? Choke us? Chase us around with an ax?

Maybe we should investigate it. Wear rubber gloves when we look at it. An oxygen mask.

Oh, maybe THAT'S where the WMDs are!

I wonder about the desires of those censors who would rather look at Simowitzes' ass on NYPD Blue rather than at a nipple. Huh? Or look at "push up" bras? What are kids TAUGHT so that it would be so vulgar to show a nipple? And not the push ups? What?

Maybe they'll outlaw whole cultures where there is nothing wrong with the upper body of a woman. Since most men, like me, have hair growing around their nipple (ugh!), why not censor a man's breast?

I say we punish all handymen, and certain really low budget filmmakers, who show the cracks of their asses when they bend down.

Maybe they'll outlaw saying the word "nipple." Kids will be told that the thing they sucked on to drink their milk from was a tire iron.

What about artificial nipples? You know from cosmetic surgery. Can they legally censor showing that, since it 's not real?

What's next? The lips? Sensual lips. Ooh, baby.

All entries must be postmarked by April 15th 2004. Anyone knowing Nat or associated with him will be disqualified. The "date" will consist of walking around the Topanga Mall (Nat's real cheap) and having some popcorn and perhaps a Pepsi.
